How to understand the turbulent future?

Anton Musgrave, futurist, business strategist, keynote speaker, and businessman, engages with clients around the world across industries in strategic conversations about their future.

His passion is to engage senior executives in challenging debates about the many forces, technologies and market dynamics driving future business success. Few leave Anton's sessions thinking about anything in the same way; instead they are fuelled with new, exciting, action-shifting insights.

His own varied and successful career underscores the lessons he shares. He previously served as MD of Citadel Private Client Wealth Management, Managing Partner of a large legal practice, MD of a major property business and President of a national property owners association, representing property interests worth $60 billion. Anton currently advises several businesses and families, and has served on the Board of Governors of a leading educational institution.

Anton drives the FutureWorld process of strategic thinking from the future back to the present, turning traditional strategy on its head. He shares an insightful understanding of the drivers of long-term business success, shifting business models, and what it takes to stay ahead of the market.

He is an inspiring, spirited communicator and a globally acclaimed speaker and facilitator at corporate events and strategic initiatives. Further, he teaches regular executive programmes at major business schools, including the London Business School, Duke CE, Oxford University's Said Business School, the Tata Management Training Centre for global leadership and the Indian School of Business.

He shares an insightful understanding of the drivers of long-term business success, shifting business models, and what it takes to stay ahead of the market.

Which of your current innovation projects will thoroughly excite your future clients, and which will at best deliver incremental improvement?”

“Which of your current core business assumptions will be toxic when viewed from a future perspective?”

“Do you succinctly know WHY you do what you do?”

“What would the market really miss if your entire business were to be vaporised today?”

Testimonials

“Anton’s session was thought-provoking and challenging, encouraging delegates to think differently about innovation, setting the scene for tomorrow’s world and the imperatives of stepping up to being leaders in an uncertain future. Anton is extremely engaging, has seemingly boundless energy and is both knowledgeable and passionate about his subject. He has the natural ability to not only open, but blow people’s minds to possibilities, to generate tangible excitement and to challenge pre-conceptions. An excellent speaker and without hesitation, highly recommended.”
