COMMENTARY

- Global developed markets (+1.3%) gained despite a deteriorating macroeconomic environment as increasingly dovish central banks provided support – US equity markets (+1.8%) outperformed again in March resulting in their best quarter (+13.7%) in nearly twenty years
- Emerging markets (+0.8%) lagged on average but India (+9.2%) outperformed as Prime Minister Modi's populist Bharatiya Janata Party appeared closer to winning the upcoming general election – China (+2.4%) also rose as recent purchasing manager index (PMI) surveys turned positive following several months of contraction
- Developed market sovereign bond yields fell sharply following surprisingly dovish Federal Reserve comments and weak European economic data – the market is now pricing in no US interest rate increases in 2019 and only one in 2020
- The US dollar strengthened against most major currencies including the euro (-1.4%) and British pound (-2.0%) – dollar strength also continued to weigh on precious metals prices including gold (-1.5%) and silver (-4.5%)
- Oil (+3.6%) rose against broadly lower commodity prices – global oil production fell as a result of Saudi led OPEC production cuts and involuntary supply curtailments in Venezuela
- The rand (-3.0%) weakened in line with most emerging market currencies on the back of a stronger US dollar – the currency remains vulnerable given the twin deficits and the likelihood of continued economic weakness

INVESTING FOR THE LONG TERM

At Foord Unit Trusts, we believe in investing for the long term. We seek to partner with clients who wish to invest for decades and who understand that superior long-term returns are not achieved smoothly each year. We pledge to earn your trust by investing your money with the same care and dedication with which we invest our own.

ABOUT THE TARGET FUND

The Foord International Fund (FIF) is the target fund for the Foord International Feeder Fund. FIF was launched as a global equity fund in 1997 when South African exchange controls were first relaxed. It was a tumultuous time for global equity markets. Price-earnings multiples (PEs) on the S&P 500 Index in the USA grew from around 15-times earnings in 1995 to around 20-times earnings when the fund commenced. They headed even higher as investors speculated in the dot-com bubble leading up to the early 2000s.

Given the speculative fever in equity markets and the entrenched Foord investment philosophy of protecting investors from permanent capital losses, the managers changed the fund's investment policy to one of flexible asset allocation. Investment grade interest bearing assets in excess of 40% of the portfolio were subsequently included in the fund, which protected investors' capital when equity markets retraced their gains in 1999/2000 (see Chart 1). Within the reduced equity component, the investment thesis continued to focus on quality companies offering a safe but adequate return, mostly in developed economies.

The managers then set an absolute return investment objective for the fund. Chart 2 demonstrates that FIF has consistently delivered real returns of approximately 5% per annum in US dollars over rolling five year cycles.

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (unit trusts) are generally medium- to long-term investments. The value of participatory interests (units) may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future. Performance is calculated for the portfolio. Individual investor performance may differ as a result of the actual investment date, the date of reinvestment and withholding taxes. Performance may be affected by changes in the market or economic conditions and legal, regulatory and tax requirements. Foord Unit Trusts does not provide any guarantee either with respect to the capital or the performance return of the investment. Unit trusts are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing. Foord Unit Trusts does not engage in scrip lending. Commission and incentives may be paid and if so, this cost is not borne by the investor. A fund of funds invests only in other Collective Investment Scheme portfolios, which may levy their own charges, which could result in a higher fee structure. A feeder fund is a portfolio that, apart from assets in liquid form, consists solely of units in a single portfolio of a Collective Investment Scheme which could result in a higher fee structure. Foord Unit Trusts is authorised to close the portfolio to new investors in order to manage the portfolio more efficiently in accordance with its mandate.

UNIT PRICE

Unit trust prices are calculated on a net asset value basis, which is the total value of all assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions from the portfolio. Forward pricing is used. Prices are determined at 15h00 each business day and are published daily on www.foord.co.za and in national newspapers. The cut-off time for instruction is 14h00 each business day.

TER

A Total Expense Ratio (TER) is a measure of a portfolio's annual expenses, fees and charges, expressed as a percentage of the average daily value of the portfolio. These expenses include the annual fee, VAT, audit fees, bank charges and costs, including trading costs, incurred in any underlying funds. Included in the TER, but separately disclosed, is a performance fee (or credit) resulting from overperformance (or underperformance) against the benchmark. A higher TER ratio does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TERs. Performance return information and prices are always stated net of the expenses, fees and charges included in the TER. The TER for the fund's financial year ended 28 February 2019 was 1.50%.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT RISK

The portfolio may include underlying foreign investments. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of underlying foreign investments to go up or down. The underlying foreign investments may be adversely affected by political instability as well as exchange controls, changes in taxation, foreign investment policies, restrictions on repatriation of investments and other restrictions and controls that may be imposed by the relevant authorities in the relevant countries.
